

Privacy notice for AXA Bank suppliers and their employees

The General Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR") entered into force on May 25th 2018. This European regulation reinforces and harmonizes the protections of personal data of natural persons.

AXA Bank Belgium processes the personal data of your employees (contact persons and service providers) in her capacity as data controller. More specifically, the following categories of personal data are processed: Name, employer, professional telephone number, professional e-mail address.

AXA Bank Belgium processes such personal data based on her legitimate interest. These data are processed for the following purposes:

- Sourcing Activities;
- Contractual activities;
- Contract Execution activities - The services your organization provides to AXA Bank Belgium;
- Supplier management, invoice and payments processing (via Coupa);

As part of this processing, the required personal data of your employees can be transferred to the relevant sub-processor(s).

As part of the takeover of AXA Bank Belgium by the Crelan Group, your personal data may, if necessary, be shared with other entities of the Crelan Group (Crelan SA and Europabank). This exchange is necessary to enable, prepare and implement the integration of AXA Bank within the Crelan Group (migration of products, processes, IT systems, etc., in accordance with the objectives described above). In this context, AXA Bank and Crelan will act as joint controllers. In order to optimally protect your data, a data processing agreement has been concluded between the two parties, which defines the permitted processing operations. This exchange (and the data processing agreement) will only be necessary during the period when AXA Bank constitutes a separate legal entity within the Crelan group. As soon as the legal migration of the two entities is completed, there will only be one legal entity (Crelan). As of the legal migration, you will be a supplier of Crelan, who will act as a data controller.

AXA Bank Belgium shall keep the personal data for no longer than is required by law or necessary for the fulfilment of the objectives pursued.

Your employees can exercise their rights as provided in articles 12-22 of the General Data Protection Law by sending an e-mail with an identification document to privacy.axa.bank@axa.be. They can also file a complaint with the Supervisory Authority via:
